2ND EUGLOH ANNUAL STUDENT RESEARCH CONFERENCE

European University Alliance for Global Health

This conference offers the opportunity to Master and Ph.D. students of the “European University Alliance for Global Health”, to present their research works on Global Health issues.

Contributions from all fields of Humanities and Social Sciences are welcome. The Scientific Committee will mainly target the following topics (although other global health issues can be submitted):

- Digital health (e-healthcare, artificial intelligence...)
- Environmental challenges (sustainable consumption, environmental law, ecological economics, environmental diplomacy...)
- Ethics and Health (ethics of research, ethics of care...)
- Food, nutrition and well-being (food sovereignty, sustainable food system, food consumption...)

- Global public health (health public policies, social marketing, social acceptance...)
- Health economics (insurance, prevention, care...)
- Health in changing labour conditions
- Health law (health data protection, universal health coverage, patient rights...)
- Health diplomacy (internationalisation of health policies, public and private actors, the role of EU...)
- Right to health (social inequalities, social justice...)
- Therapeutic innovations and empowerment (fab-Lab, expert patient, partner patient), patent law and pharmaceutical companies

Specific focus on Covid-19 pandemic across these themes are welcome!

CONFERENCE PROGRAMME:

The conference will be organised both online and in-person: we will simultaneously broadcast all presentations within the EUGLOH Alliance while students from each campus will present their work in a conference room on their campus (in compliance with anti-Covid measures).

The scientific committee will select 100 Students from Master and PhD programmes of the five universities of the EUGLOH Alliance (University of Szeged, Paris-Saclay University, Lund University, Ludwig-Maximilian University of München, University of Porto).

Participating students can present their work in one of the two following ways:

- Oral presentations by online video streaming and interactive communication. Each selected contribution will be endowed with 20 minutes: 10 minutes for the talk, followed by a 10-minute discussion both in the conference room and between the five campuses' partners.
- Pre-recorded 5-minute presentations in a video file format uploaded on the e-presentation platform. Video files will be published prior to interactive live discussion sessions.

The conference programme will include plenary talks by researchers of EUGLOH member universities.

The conference will be open to students of all levels, academic and non-academic staff of EUGLOH.

SELECTION AND EVALUATION OF THE CONTRIBUTIONS:

Candidates should submit a short research paper. Short papers must be in English, Times New Roman 12-point font and are limited to 2 pages (Cover page, references, tables, figures are not included in this maximum number of pages). The cover page should include: the name of the candidate and of the thesis advisor(s) (if already known), the contact details, the paper title, a 100-word abstract, and 3 key-words.

The scientific committee will evaluate students' contributions to assess the following:

- i) quality of the research paper,
- ii) scientific value of the results,
- iii) format, illustration, coherence, and style,
- iv) discussion and professional skills.

The scientific committee will reward 10 oral presentations, 5 pre-recorded presentations and 5 short papers. Awards will be announced and provided at the closing ceremony.

SHORT PAPER SUBMISSION DEADLINE:
6 SEPTEMBER 2021
